

The International Education Group Partnership Process

The International Education Group is a global training provider established in the UK in 2017 working in partnership with training providers in the early years and education sector in countries around the world.

When an international training provider makes contact with TiEGr, to find out more about becoming a partner, we arrange a date and time for an initial call either on the phone or via Skype or other video conferencing formats to discuss our partnerships model, the qualifications we offer and to spend time generally finding out about the prospective partner, their goals and future plans.

Following the initial call we will send the relevant information and documentation to the centre that provides an overview of the various qualifications in the form of key facts and information about our services and fees and an initial application form. We will also book in follow up meetings online to answer any questions, discuss the market, fees, staffing and identify the opportunities available and benefits to our prospective partners in terms of income generation and sustainability.

When the prospective partner decides to enter into a partnership with The International Education Group as a delivery partner they will be asked to review and sign a range of application forms and operational agreements. The prospective centre, once they have signed the agreement, will be invoiced for the centre set-up fee.

The International Education Group Partnership Process

Following receipt of payment TiEGr will begin the 4 -6 week centre set-up process, this includes delivery of all centre set-up documentation, including policies, procedures, marketing information, branding guidelines, qualifications specifications and much more. We provide a comprehensive checklist to help you organise your systems and file your documents.

During the centre set-up phase TiEGr will organise several online training sessions for staff, we have the facility to deliver training to staff at 5 locations making it easy for staff to attend. Staff training will focus on the qualification content and delivery and assessment methods. There is also training for the marketing team to discuss how our joint marketing will look and feel, ensuring we meet awarding organisation marketing criteria.

TiEGr team will organise training for staff on how to use the Laser Learning e-portfolio system and the Dynamic Learning resources and provide training to the administrators, support staff, assessors, trainers and teachers regarding their roles and responsibilities.

Following the training and receipt of all the relevant documentation TiEGr staff will continue to be available to answer questions and provide advice, support and guidance until everyone feels confident that they can start qualification delivery.

Centre set-up is complete!

The International Education Group Partnership Process

Following the process for centre set-up the partner is supported by an experienced team which includes trainers and internal quality assurers who have all worked with training providers in the UK and internationally to deliver UK regulated qualifications.

The TiEGr team will continue to support the partner centre by joining classes online, participating in learner inductions and attending standardisation meetings as an extension of your own team.

Finally, there is always someone you know in the TiEGr team to answer questions and join you regularly online via video conferencing to provide that extra support you may need as the partnership progresses.

The journey starts here...!!!
